

Jorge Cazares
Board Member

Jorge grew up in Pilsen and was a "Gads Hill kid," using the gym, library and woodshop facilities among others. Born and raised in Chicago, he attended St. Ignatius College Prep and Yale University. As the first ever Latino General Counsel to the Chicago Housing Authority, he oversaw all of the agency's legal affairs and provided advice and counsel to the CHA's Board of Commissioners, senior management, and employees.

He is currently a Partner in Pugh, Jones & Johnson's Litigation Practice Group. He has been on the Gads Hill Center Board of Directors since 2001 and has served as two terms as Board President.
